

wedding services

ge-photography provides a comprehensive and professional wedding photography service in Dumfries and Galloway, the Central Belt, Borders and further afield. My prices are extremely competitive and comprehensive with no hidden costs to ensure you get excellent value for money.

Each couple has particular requirements for their wedding so my range of services offers the flexibility to suit what you need, from covering the whole day to just capturing key moments. We discuss in advance the style of photography you would like for your wedding with great care and attention to detail. Prices are tailored to your specific requirements starting from £395. A detailed costing will be provided as part of the consultation.

I will provide you with fantastic photographs; reminders of the subtleties you might otherwise have forgotten, and glimpses of moments you might otherwise have missed but more importantly your wonderful day captured in stunning photographs.

For me there is nothing more satisfying than capturing the most wonderful moments in life, that is why I do what I do as a wedding and portrait photographer.

wedding photographs

I also offer a range of products, which include bespoke album design, which after your wedding, I create, in consultation with you. I have a full range of affordable to luxury packages, which will be individual and exclusive to your wedding day. Images that are stylish, elegant and in a modern design product: a timeless and classic reminder of a wonderful day that brings your memories to life for years to come.

Ensure your wedding photos are in safe hands.

Your Wedding

Planning the perfect day to remember

a day to remember...

Every wedding is unique and all brides and grooms have their own hopes and expectations for their big day. Photography captures all those important memories in a timeless and contemporary way. As your wedding photographer, it's my job to make sure those hopes and expectations are met and that your photographs capture the highlights and the happiness of the day.

planning the perfect day

I think of myself as a genuinely open, approachable and friendly person who takes time to get to know a little about each couple, their families and guests. This means I can create a more personal atmosphere, put everyone at ease and capture more relaxed, natural images, often without anyone realising I'm there. That way your bridal party, family and friends can enjoy the day to the full.

An essential element of my wedding photography is an early meeting with the bride and groom so I can fully understand their wishes. I combine this with a pre-wedding shoot at the venue or a favourite location. This helps everybody relax, and gives the bride and groom the confidence that their wedding photography is in safe hands.

Part of my preparation includes a visit to the venue(s) to plan your photography within each setting. I also contact your minister/celebrant/ registrar and any wedding coordinator to ensure everything runs smoothly on the big day.
