History

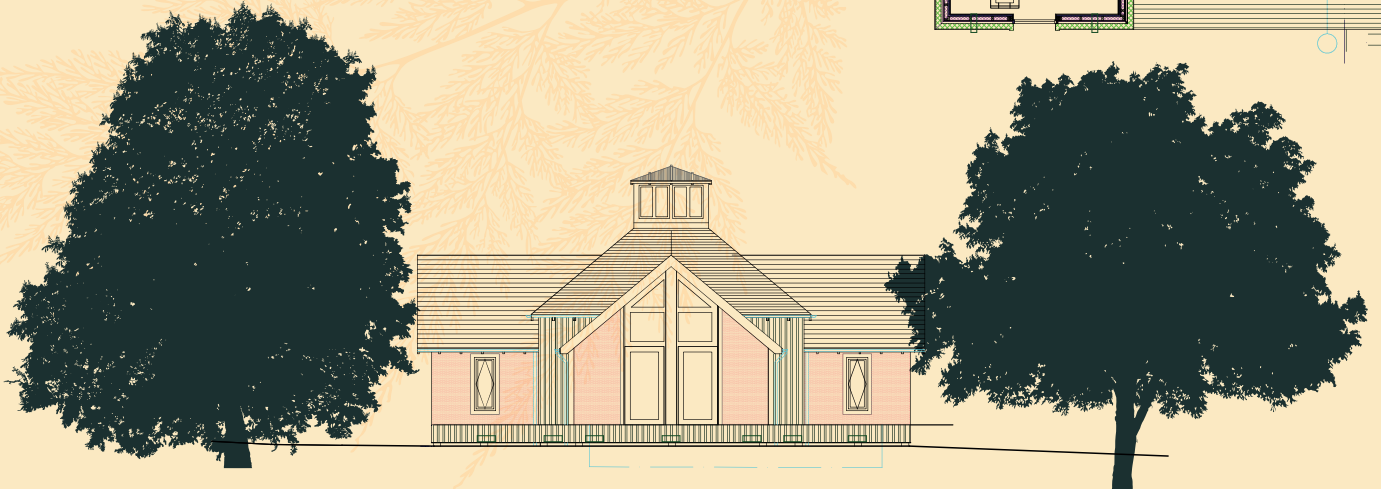

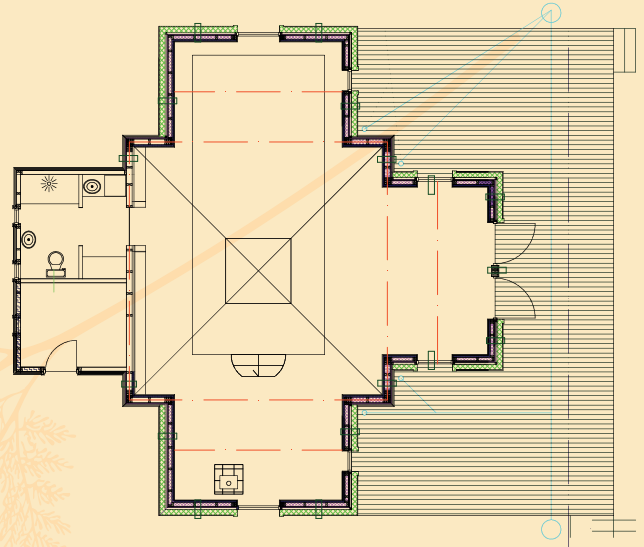

The Park Estate was originally part of the Royal Forest of Banff and was granted by King Alexander II to a Norman knight, Sir Walram de Normanville in 1242. The current Castle is a large rambling, harled mansion which may have foundations from the 13th Century, but was built or rebuilt into a Z-plan tower house in 1536. In the 1700's a number of extensions were added to Park changing it from a fortified house into a large Georgian country mansion and in 1829 the final addition of a Gothic Tower was added.

The Castle is the family home of the Campbell Wilsons and is set in extensive grounds with historic plantings.

Future

In 2015 we are erecting a Poolhouse Pavilion next to the Castle. This will be ready for ceremonies by the end of the year. The pool will have a hydraulic floor that can be raised to change the room from Spa to Function room in minutes and the Bridal Party can take the opportunity to relax before or after the Ceremony.

‘Part of the unique appeal of Park is its sense of pure escapism. As soon as we turned into the castle entrance and drove up the winding drive, we were charmed and filled with a sense of excitement.

Then we were greeted with sincere smiles, a roaring fire and beautifully prepared rooms, The elegant space and excellent facilities alongside a real family atmosphere was very apparent’
