

Snap Happy!

For the past three years, Big Brother 3 runner-up Jonny Regan and his team have been adding the extra wow factor to weddings and events countrywide, with their award-winning, madcap and quirky photo booths - causing lots of mischief on the way!

Founder of PictureBook PartyBooths, Jonny, has developed a totally unique entertainment experience like no other, which your guests will be talking about long after your big day. The PartyBooth experience starts two weeks before the wedding, in the photography studio, with an inclusive fun-filled studio shoot - the perfect opportunity to capture the happy couple. The images are then used to personalise every booth print and the guestbook - A service that PictureBook PartyBooths are the only photo booth company in the UK to offer.

When the big day arrives, imagine you are walking down the red carpet at your very own premiere - an then the hilarity begins! Two mischievous PartyBooth attendants - waiting to give you a makeover with a twist, right in front of your guests - are there to greet you. The booth then takes up to four images, whilst our attendants throw in extra props, wigs and hats; all the while, the camera captures the mayhem!

"This experience is the core to all that we do. When I created the company I didn't just want to be another pose-and-go booth hire service. We wanted to create a fun, memorable experience that would bring out the naughtiness and playful side of everyone!"

- Jonny Regan

The booths include a large illuminated marquee-style sign with the happy couple's name up in lights, a VIP area, hilarious props, a guestbook, picture disc and Facebook Upload. Video messages, which are also an option are professionally edited into a mini-movie with music, titles and sound effects; this is then burned to a DVD.

Picturebook PartyBooths are best known for their original Hollywood booths, but this year sees the launch of their elegant shabby-chic booth range. 50's paparazzi men and large illuminated LOVE letters to give your event that extra special flair.

Complete packages start from £465.00
