

Yew Lodge
COUNTRY HOUSE
Weddings

Introduction

Warm and welcoming with an air of quiet, rural charm – Yew Lodge Country House is a classic Victorian house offering a top-class service for weddings. Named after the 800 year old tree in the beautiful 10 acre gardens, the estate is steeped in history, with first references dating back to 959AD. The house as it stands now was built around 1891, with substantial enhancements carried out over the years, including a new facility built in 2010, especially designed for wedding celebrations.

Exclusively for You

One of the great benefits of coming to Yew Lodge Country House is that you have sole use of all the facilities, giving you total privacy and seclusion. It is an intimate venue and many people have commented favourably on the special atmosphere.

For the wedding breakfast we offer a choice of two reception areas – both with direct access to patios and the gardens. For small, intimate weddings of up to 50 seated guests, we have the Oak Suite, so called due to the oak panelling in the main room, complimented by silk screens, which are part of the original building. For up to 130 seated guests, we have the Sycamore Suite, recently built and incorporating classic quality with modern features such as air conditioning. For evening receptions or more informal dining we can accommodate 180 guests in total.

As well as your choice of reception suites, guests can also enjoy the beauty and tranquility of the gardens – whatever the season they provide the ideal opportunity to take in some fresh air and wonderful views.

Working in Partnership

We are an independent, family-run business, with a passion for quality and service. We are committed to the success of your special day and achieve this by working closely with you to ensure everything is how you would like it to be and the whole occasion is a great success.
