'Exclusive To You'

Baslow Hall is an elegant Manor House built in 1907 set within five acres of grounds, including the Walled and Kitchen gardens. The surrounding area is picturesque, and the village of Baslow is situated on the edge of the magnificent Chatsworth Estate.

The Drawing Room, Oak Panelled Hall and Study are licensed for civil marriages. You can choose a traditional daytime wedding with a morning ceremony followed by lunch, or a mid-afternoon ceremony with an evening meal and overnight stay in our 11 luxury bedrooms. Baslow Hall would be all yours, as we are a small venue we do not take other events or diners.

If you are planning something smaller and intimate, we can tailor something to your needs without exclusivity.

Award-winning cooking

Head Chef Rupert Rowley has created special menus using classic favourites. The food at Baslow Hall has won national and local awards, not least a Michelin star which was awarded in 1994 and every year since.

Rupert relies heavily on British produce and vegetables grown in our own gardens during the summer months.

Luxury accommodation

Our 11 individually furnished bedrooms are included in the Afternoon Ceremony and Dinner package.

The emphasis is on comfort with good beds, quality Egyptian cotton bedding, fluffy white towels, robes and luxurious toiletries.

Six bedrooms in the Main House have a traditional feel with lavish and ornate plasterwork ceilings. In contrast the five Garden House bedrooms are contemporary and very spacious.

You may wish guests to pay for their own rooms. We will happily arrange this and reduce the package price accordingly.

We are able to offer a limited number of bedrooms to those on the Morning Ceremony & Lunch package.

Classic, traditional styling in the Main House

Modern, contemporary design in the Garden House

Kitchen Garden

Home-grown vegetables and herbs complement your dishes during the summer months.
