Explosive Entertainment!

Welcome to Flashpoint Fireworks

Truly explosive entertainment at the highest level. We are the creators of mesmerising pyrotechnic displays across the UK, using the latest digital firing equipment which has split-second accuracy. So whatever your occasion, venue or event we will ensure your display is truly magical.

About us

Flashpoint Fireworks is an established, professional pyrotechnic entertainments company based near Guildford, Surrey. We have provided fantastic displays nationwide for councils, companies, and concerts and at weddings, parties and the general public.

Customer satisfaction is of paramount importance at Flashpoint. Our business covers a wide range of pyrotechnic disciplines, but there is always one common aim: to provide stunning displays for our clients. This may sound simple and obvious, but it's a point many of our competitors often overlook. This means investing time and effort in making sure we really do understand the products we use and tailoring them to our customers' needs. This understanding is behind our whole ethos and approach to your display design. It transforms our thinking and enables us to create visual effects that will genuinely take your breath away.

At Flashpoint we have a very talented team and we have won The British Musical Firework Championships and Eastnor Castle Firework Championships. It is our designers who set us apart from our competitors.

All of our staff are fully trained either by in-house display managers or through the British Pyrotechnists Association examinations. They also undergo regular training, keeping them in touch with new developments.

Safety and insurance

The most important aspect of any firework display is safety. Dealing with explosive material means there are a number of potential hazards and for this reason Flashpoint will risk assess all display sites in accordance with HSE guidelines, enforce safety measures and ensure displays have been thoroughly planned before the day.

Flashpoint's safety record is exemplary and many of our display team come from a Health and Safety background. We keep up-to-date with the latest changes in legislation so clients can have total confidence in our ability to provide a fantastic and safe display.

We have comprehensive £10 million liability insurance 365 days of the year, which every professional firework company must have. Our insurance details are always available on request and are supplied to all venues we work with. We are also members of the Explosives Industry Group (EIG).

Corporate events - displays for any occasion

Are you launching a new product? Want to impress clients at the end of a conference? Having a Christmas party or even a team building day? Flashpoint Fireworks has provided hundreds of displays at events like these for companies. Displays can be short and very dramatic for a few hundred pounds or a fully choreographed 30 minute extravaganza costing in excess £30,000. There is of course no limit to our designers' imagination.

Public displays - remember remember the 5th November

November 5th – the most important date on the firework calendar. Public events are the best way for children and adults alike to safely enjoy a fabulous firework display. Everyone remembers the first large bonfire night display they went to as a child – the smell, the noise, the fireworks! Flashpoint is always keen to work with local Lions, Rotary and Round Table clubs at public events.

Musical displays - fired with split second accuracy

Musical displays have become very popular and Flashpoint Fireworks can really make your fireworks dance to the rhythm. Our designers work with state of the art digital firing equipment to choreograph the fireworks to specific tracks. This is a time-consuming process but we work closely with our clients ensuring we listen to their ideas and turn them into a visual reality.

Weddings - light up the sky on your wedding night

Flashpoint has provided hundreds of brides and grooms across the country with a magical ending to their special day. At Flashpoint customer satisfaction is paramount and on top of this we offer fantastic value for money. We have a large selection of fireworks with effects from all over the world that will certainly ensure lots of 'oohs' and 'aahs' from your family and friends.

School events & proms - exhilarating way to end the day

School firework displays are a fantastic opportunity for children of all ages to safely watch and enjoy a professionally organised event. At Flashpoint we work closely with many schools around the UK, providing fireworks for proms, fundraising concerts and November 5th events. School proms are increasingly popular in the UK and fireworks are a superb way to round off the evening. At Flashpoint we offer a complete range of displays for these events.

New Year's Eve - when big ben strikes we fire

At Flashpoint we can cater for large organised town events, hotel parties or even a display fired in a large back garden – no display is too big or small. We have worked across the UK every New Year's Eve for many years providing stunning displays to audiences of many sizes, and when the clock strikes midnight we are always ready to fire. We provide anything from a short high impact display to an amazing ten minute extravaganza.

“ We wanted to thank you formally for the most amazing firework display you put on as the climax to our 2010 Children in Need event at Adventure Wonderland. Without exception, everyone praised it and many commented that it was much better than many of the displays provided by councils and large organisations ”

Susan Hamblin, BBC South Today

Sefton Council – British Musical Firework Championships

Sefton Council contacted us asking if we would take part in the British Musical Firework Championships at short notice - we jumped at the chance to be part of this prestigious British event! The schedule was tight and we only had a few weeks to produce our display. Our designers worked day and night to come up with a display which was then programmed into our digital firing system ready for the big day. The long trip to Southport was worth it! We came away as winners and are very proud of this great achievement.

Sefton Council commented after the event... "Congratulations on your first place which was thoroughly deserved for what was noted not only an amazing feast for the senses but also an 'international standard' display. Thank you also for your enthusiasm towards the event at very short notice." Sarah Carter – Sefton Borough Council, Events Officer

Girlguiding Surrey East – 100 year Centenary Jamboree at Lingfield Park Racecourse

Flashpoint Fireworks were approached by Girlguiding Surrey East to produce a musical extravaganza for up to 8,000 girl guides and helpers at the opening of the Girlguiding Centenary celebrations at Lingfield Park Racecourse. Our designers met the client at the venue to discuss site layout and music choice for the event. The display site at Lingfield is vast which enabled us to design a wide format display with three front positions set over 150 metres apart. Flashpoint chose tracks that would appeal to all ages including Cool & the Gang's 'Celebration' and 'Entry of the Gladiators' by Julius Fucik.

The client commented after the event... "Flashpoint, what can I say?...Wow! I just wanted you to know I thought the fireworks on Saturday were brilliant, fantastic and amazing! Thank you so much! It was good working with you and I hope you felt it had been successful too. The children and adults were all on a high afterwards and lots of them went away singing 'Celebration' at the tops of their voices. The fireworks provided exactly the right climax to the day that we had hoped for, so a huge thank you to yourself and the display team." Rosemary Goddard – Event Organiser
